

Academic excellence

A commitment to spiritual growth

Cultural and personal development

At Edgewood Elementary/Greater Boston Academy, that's just the beginning. Here, students experience learning that goes well beyond education.

EDGEWOOD ELEMENTARY/GREATER BOSTON ACADEMY:

- prepares students for life, itself, not just academia
- equips students with the tools they'll need for a strong, Christ-inspired life, based on the teachings of the Bible
- fosters an environment for continuous spiritual development
- provides students with a well-rounded educational experience that includes cultural awareness and a lifelong devotion to community service
- encourages students to become their personal and professional "best," through self-discipline, regular goal setting and achievement
- helps students develop a spirit of teamwork and sportsmanship through a highly acclaimed athletics program, sports and recreational activities

Educating for Eternity

Greater Boston Academy
Excellence for the Purpose of Service

...balanced by recreation, culture and community service

Education at its best...

Edgewood Elementary/Greater Boston Academy (EW/GBA) is a private, co-educational, Christian school, serving students from Pre-K through grade 12 within a Seventh-day Adventist context.

Renowned for academic quality for over 60 years, our school's credentials include approval and accreditation by the General Conference of Seventh-day Adventists Board of Regents through the North American Division Commission on Accreditation and the National Council for Private School Accreditation.

Our staff takes an active, personal interest in all students, most of whom later excel at the college of their choice. An exceptional student/teacher ratio allows for learning as a team and fosters relationships based on mutual respect. And with a diverse student population, young people develop tolerance for -- and acceptance of -- cultural differences early on in life.

IN PROVIDING A STERLING-QUALITY EDUCATIONAL EXPERIENCE, EW/GBA OFFERS:

- Three-diploma options
- AP and honors classes
- Extensive curriculum in English, fine arts, math and life skills
- Studies in journalism
- Computer access, including the Internet
- Driver's education
- Much, much more

...based on a Christian Foundation

What distinguishes our private school from other institutions is the focus on spiritual enhancement and the life-long development of character, based on the principles of the Bible.

As a result, students emerge having gained the tools for successful living and healthy lifestyles, including a personal integrity that honors high standards, a devotion to community service and a strong, positive preparedness for dealing with life's challenges.

ASSETS AVAILABLE TO STUDENTS:

- An on-campus chaplain
- Daily morning worship
- Weekly chapels, assemblies and prayer groups
- Monthly youth churches
- Quarterly weeks of prayer
- Christian drama and witness trips
- Community service programs and town outreach
- Off-campus revival ministries

To complement academic studies, Edgewood Elementary/Greater Boston Academy encourages extracurricular activities that inspire creativity and challenge students physically and mentally.

ATHLETICS

Students can choose from a variety of athletics programs, including:

- Men's and women's varsity basketball
- Co-ed varsity soccer & softball
- Intramurals (flagball, basketball, softball and volleyball)
- Gymnastics

ART AND CULTURE

Because of our proximity to Boston, students enjoy regular field trips to:

- Boston Symphony Orchestra
- Boston's Museum of Fine Arts
- Isabella Stewart Gardner Museum
- New England Aquarium
- Boston Museum of Science
- Boston Public Library
- Harvard University Museums, and more.

COMMUNITY SERVICE

To help students develop a passion for service, we sponsor:

- Foreign Mission Trips (Honduras, Peru, Costa Rica and Mexico)
- Church services
- Religious drama performances
- Gospel choir, band (concerts, special music)
- Local community projects (food pantries and puppet ministries)
